ABOUT

Executech Global is an engineering talent acquisition firm that specializes in the rail, transit and transportation fields throughout the world including Canada and the United States. We limit our scope so that the needs of our client's can be better served. Our focused representatives understand your business creating added value to your supply chain by identifying available candidates that are qualified based on your role specifications quickly.

Networking continually in a focused field gives Executech Global a competitive advantage which minimizes the time required to submit qualified candidates creating superior value to our client's business. We utilize our resources effectively and efficiently to streamline our delivery process and we do it confidentially and with integrity. We are continually developing a roster of available engineers that vary in experience from senior executive leadership, engineering and technical subject matter experts to intermediate field staff, drafters and CAD designers that have been qualified and have expressed interest in alternative career opportunities.

You will find our team courteous and respectful of your recruiting policies and procedures corresponding with your designated representatives as frequently as required. Any and all information given to our team by representatives of your firm will be kept strictly confidential during your search campaign including but not limited to the scope of the required candidate search or details of the technical projects.

We specialize so that our experts can talk the talk, and walk the walk. It is our objective to benefit your recruitment process by keeping you ON TRACK and in the fast lane while you are building towards the future.

Executech Global provides excellence in talent acquisition leadership and guidance in support of our clients and their communities. We do this with an emphasis on customer service based on consultation and communication.

We are committed to working strategically with our clients in identifying, adapting and responding to its changing needs and by focusing efforts on their most valuable asset, its employees.

We succeed by earning the satisfaction of our customers, the respect and trust of those who govern us, support us and do business with us; and the pride of our employees.

Executech Global is committed to working towards the elimination of social exclusion and operates internationally without prejudice towards gender, marital status, age, disability, race, sexual orientation and religious belief.

Our objective is to meet and exceed our client's expectations through our commitment to continual improvement.

MISSION

CONFIDENTIALITY

Confidentiality during the recruiting process is an essential part of our business. We understand and respect the reputations of everyone involved in a recruiting campaign. This understanding has allowed our client portfolio to include numerous firms from the ENR Top 50 list as well as senior executives from prestigious firms who confide in us during their job search. When clients enter into an agreement with Executech Global, they are confident that their names, reputation, and image will be well protected. This business policy has allowed our company to excel at direct recruiting highly sought after candidates from our client's direct competitors while keeping the entire process confidential as well as maintain the employment status of our roster of active candidates.

A confidentiality agreement with our clients and candidates is as follows:

Our firm, Executech Global will not, either during a period of engagement or at any time thereafter (except in proper course of our duties or as required by law) use or disclose to any person or company any confidential information of, or relating to, our clients and candidates or any person with whom we have come in contact with as a result of a search campaign. We will use our best endeavors to prevent the use or disclosure of any such information by a third party. "Confidential information" refers to any patents (actual or pending), trade secrets, formulas, designs, software, or proprietary information related to our clients and candidates. Without limitation, this will include any information concerning the accounts, marketing plans, sales plans, prospects, research, management, financing, products, inventions, designs, suppliers, clients, client lists, process, computer systems, or other information in writing or otherwise concerning the clients and candidates of Executech Global.

CAPABILITY
